

Each dimension correlated with per-cell quality metrics

One observation per cell, using that cell's own TSS enrichment, fragment count and FRIP.
Left, across all cells. Right, after subtracting each sample's mean from its cells, which isolates variation between cells of the same sample -- the part a per-sample quality mean cannot resolve.

